The Bob Costley home, located between Canyon and Claude was destroyed by fire Wednesday. The family dog, above, stands vigil at the front gate even though most of the rubble had been cleared from the home site by bulldozers late Friday. Cause of the fire was attributed to lightning.

Lightning blamed for loss of home

Fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Costley, 21 miles northeast of Canyon, late Wednesday afternoon.

Canyon Volunteer Fire Department received the call at 5:50 p.m. and responded with 24 volunteer firemen battling the blaze about 2 1/2 hours under direction of Fire Chief Jack Jennings.

Joining the Canyon firemen in the unsuccessful attempt to save the Costley home were two firemen manning a truck from the Tanglewood Fire Unit along with two booster truck units and firemen from the Amarillo Fire Department.

The Costley home and its contents had an estimated value of $150,000, according to Mrs. Costley. The Costleys, Bob and Virginia, were taking a brief vacation at their cabin in Sapello, New Mexico with friends at the time they were notified of the fire.

Apparent cause of the blaze, according to fire department reports, was a bolt of lightning. The fire was reported by the Costley's daughter, Mrs. Billy (Sherie) Dugan, who lives about 1/4 mile south in a trailer house.

"Sherie called us about the fire around six o'clock," stated Mrs. Costley "and by the time we made it back at midnight it was all gone, just ashes."

The Costley's returned 260 miles from their cabin site in New Mexico to find their home, clothing, household goods, and other items destroyed. Other than the four sets of clothing that Bob and Virginia had packed in their suitcases all else was lost.

As yet the Costleys are undecided whether to rebuild the home. They are presently living in a trailerhouse which was brought back from Lake Meredith this week.

The Costley home was valued at around $70,000 and household contents were a similar figure, according to the Costleys.

Both Bob and Virginia were reared in the local community and the house, which now lies in ashes northeast of town, been home to the couple since 1960.

The house had been "home" to Virginia since her own childhood. Their three children, Randy, 22, Andy, 21, and Sherie, 18, were all raised there.

Bob Costley plans to continue farming and ranching in the community and Virginia will do her womanly chores at the trailer house until such time as the decision is reached on where and when to rebuild.

Meanwhile, neighbors, and friends have been invited to help the Costley's begin "rebuilding" at a household shower which has been scheduled next Saturday evening, August 23.

The shower will be sponsored by the couple's friends from Beta Sigma Phi sorority chapters here and is to be held from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. at the Canyon Community Center. All friends of the couple are invited.

Citizens panel facing question on school controversy Tuesday

Preliminary discussions of the newly created citizens Committee for Quality Education will be reviewed Tuesday night by the Canyon Board of Education.

The study group, created by the school board, held its initial meeting last week and focused its attention on the controversial topic of school land annexation and the possibilities of a bond issue to finance school construction.

The board meeting is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. at the school administration offices on 16th Street.

For more than two years the Canyon Independent School District has been involved in an annexation-detachment issue with the Amarillo School District.

The controversy arose when the developer of the Glendale subdivision in South Amarillo petitioned to have his 176 acres of development land annexed by the Amarillo district from the Canyon district.

The Randall County Board of School Trustees voted late last year to allow the annexation. The Canyon board appealed the decision to the state education commissioner.

Also on the board's Tuesday night agenda are discussions of the proposed $3.4 million budget for next year and to set the tax rate for 1975-76.

Jim Sands, owner of Britain

Studio here, has asked to appear before the board concerning a contract for taking high school senior class pictures.

Study set on streets

The City Commission meets Monday night to set a second public hearing on a proposal for $22,000 in federal funds for a street paving project in West Canyon.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) had asked the city to apply for the community development block grant.

Although HUD's request suggested the city seek the full amount of $22,000, Tom Plumlee, city administrative assistant, said the federal agency was in no way obligated to approve the total sum.

The first public hearing on the matter was held last December, Plumlee said.

"Since the initial pre-application was made, HUD has made various modifications in program requirements which the city staff is presently reviewing," Plumlee said.

Deadline for filing the application is Sept. 30.

The commission also has on its agenda for the 7 p.m. meeting recommendations for denial of three spot zoning requests.

The Planning and Zoning Commission, an advisory arm of the City Commission, voted last week to deny requests of Kenneth Land, an eating establishment owner here, Connally Lockhart, Amarillo attorney, and Harold Root, Canyon contractor.

Kenneth Olsen, a member of the Planning and Zoning Commission, said at the time, "I feel spot zoning is a bad policy to get started."

The city commissioners also are scheduled to consider adoption of a new electrical ordinance, advertise for bids for two new police cars, open bids for furniture and fixtures for the Civic Complex under construction and to appoint Park and Recreation Board members.

WT registration time approaches

Fall registration at West Texas State University will be Aug. 29-30 at the Activities Center on campus.

Freshmen and seniors will register Aug. 29 beginning at 8 a.m., with sophomores, juniors and graduate students continuing through that afternoon and the morning of Aug. 30.

Students taking evening-only classes, and late arrivals, will register from 10:40 a.m. to 1:20 p.m. Aug. 30.

A special registration for students taking only the Amarillo courses will be held Aug. 27 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. in the administration building of the Amarillo College Vocational Arts campus. This AC campus is located near the Veteran's Hospital. The course books will be on sale at that time.

A wide variety of regular and special courses are available for those pursuing degrees or desiring to enhance their careers and interests.

Business and economics classes are emphasized in the Amarillo-only courses. Also included are Energy: Crisis and Alternatives for Survival, a special physics course on the energy problem; Studies in American Literature (contemporary novels), vocabulary building and history and philosophy of the junior college.

Small business operation, financial accounting, consumer economics and wage and salary administration are a few of the business and economics courses to be taught in Amarillo.

In Canyon, special topics courses include consumerism and agriculture, reining and western riding event instruction and farm records.

Early man in the new world, earth and man, conflict or harmony and American Revolution bicentennial, English and American perspectives are some of the courses in arts and sciences.

Total tuition and fee cost for three hours is $69.95, for six hours is $89.90 and for 12 hours is $138.50.

For more information, contact the registrar at 656-3331.

Taxpayers to get say on Tuesday

Randall County taxpayers, facing a tax increase for the coming year, can have their say Monday before Commissioners Court.

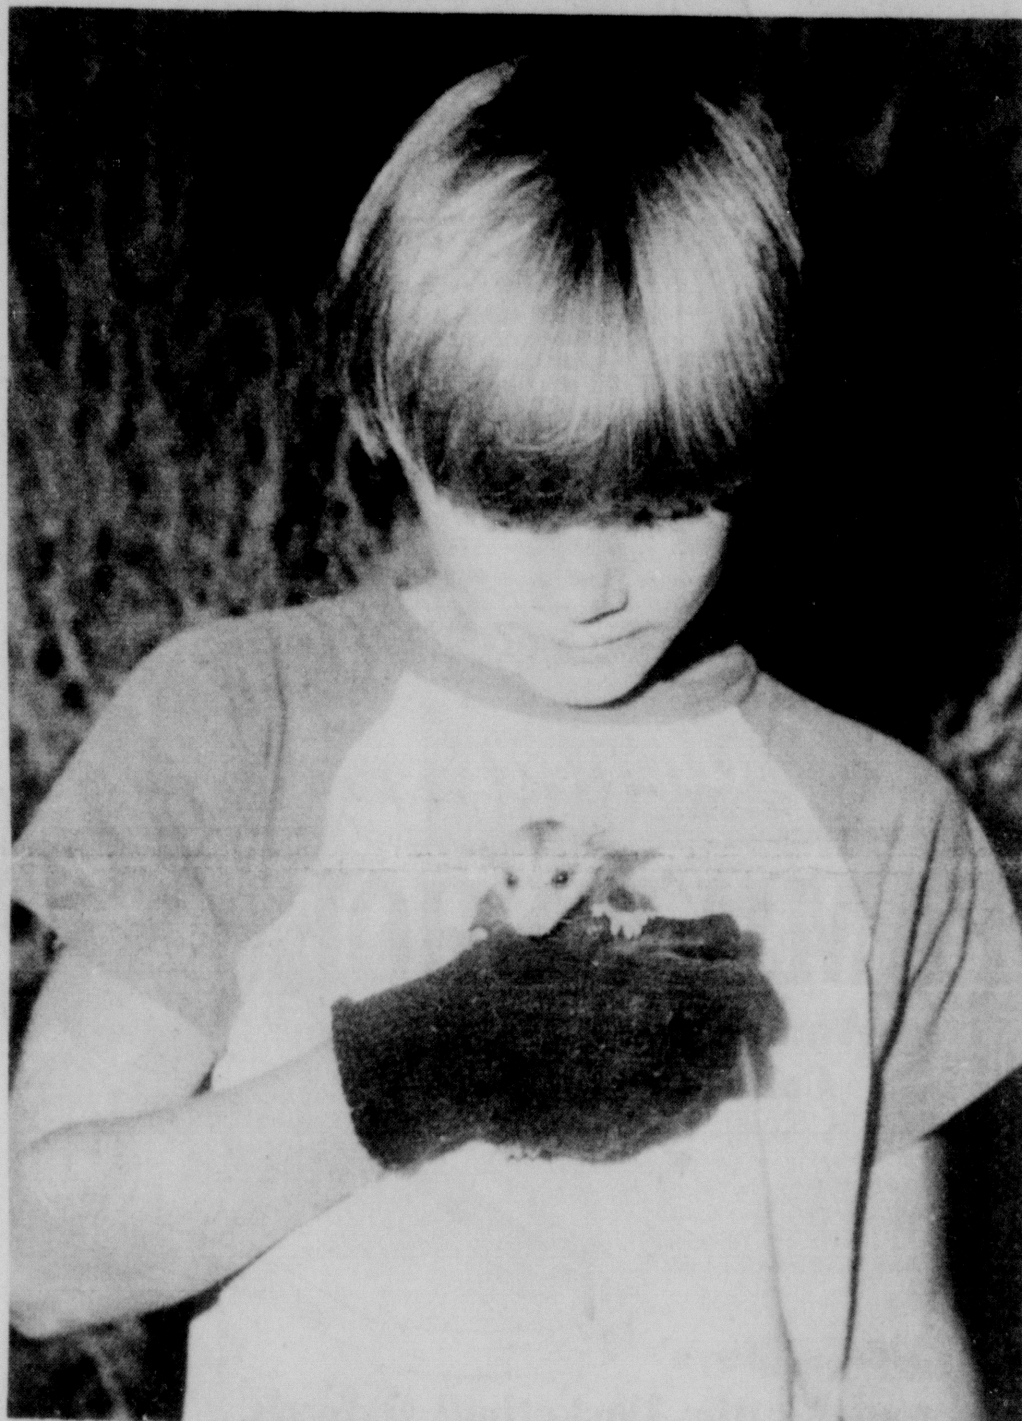

If everyone chose to complain, approximately 25,000 persons could be on hand.

The commissioners will convene at 2 p.m. as a Board of Equalization to hear complaints. At last week's meeting no protestors showed up.

County commissioners hiked taxes during a recent meeting from $1.05 per $100 on 17 percent of valuation to 95 cents per $100 on 25 per cent valuation.

The Commissioners Court meets at 1 p.m. to deal with a light agenda.

Another session of the Board of Equalization will be held at 2 p.m. Aug. 29.

Doug Davis, twelve-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Davis of Canyon, and a friend caught eight baby opossums and the mother in the city Thursday morning. After rounding up the opossums, the two youths relocated the family near Tierra Blanca Creek, east of town.

Eight member brood moves on with mom

The house in the 2500 block of 9th Avenue had a "For Sale" sign on it but the neighborhood was not too impressed with the lookers — a mother with eight babies.

It wasn't a case of racial discriminations, the family already had taken up transient status in the area.

They seemed to be causing no trouble, but residents feared for their safety from heavy street traffic decided the family should move on.

The housing problem was solved Thursday morning by two 12-year-old boys, Doug Davis and Joe Cockrell, who rounded up the family, a mother opossum and her eight babies.

Doug, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Davis, and Joe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cockrell, found the animals in the yard of the C.R. Hilliers on the corner of 9th Avenue and 25th Street.

The baby opossums had taken refuge in a row of honeysuckle bushes and the mother watched from under nearby shrubs as her babies were lifted into the waiting box.

After more than an hour of looking to make sure they found all of the mother's babies, the two boys took the family to Tierra Blanca Creek, east of town, and turned them loose in more familiar surroundings.

Mrs. Hillier said, "I had seen the opossum around the yard for about three weeks but this was the first I knew he — she — had babies."

Mrs. Davis said she saw the mother opossum Thursday morning with the eight babies riding on her tail in the driveway of the Jack Swartzell home.

She said she feared they might get run over in the street and called her son to gather them up and turn them loose in the country.

Oh yes, the "For Sale" sign now reads "Sold."

Loan firm opens

Canyon's newest financial institution, Imperial Savings Association of Amarillo, held its grand opening Saturday with a ribbon cutting and reception.

Tommy G. Lane, recently named president of Imperial Savings, said the initial response to the branch office here has been highly enthusiastic.

The new branch at 1521 4th

Ave. is being managed by Mrs. Bob (June) Crooks.

"Numerous customers have already been by to visit our new branch," Lane said. "It is really encouraging to know we have the support of the citizens of Canyon."

Canyon officials, merchants, members of the Chamber of Commerce Red Carpet Committee and Imperial officers took part in the grand opening ceremonies.

Imperial Savings gave away $1,000 in new savings accounts as part of its formal opening. The open house in the newly remodeled building featured a display of 35 paintings by Ruth Elaine Maples, a West Texas State University art graduate. Miss Maples' watercolors will remain on display this week.

Mrs. Crooks has had extensive experience in private and public commerce. She is the mother of seven sons and a daughter.

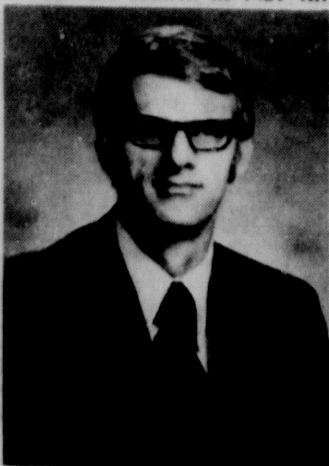

Her husband is business manager of Cattle Town Feed Yard near Summerfield. The family home is a ranch northeast of Canyon.

The Canyon High School Eagles began practice in full pads Friday. Above, last year all-district pick Wayne Robinson is shown warding off an unidentified blocker. The Eagles will travel to Morton Aug. 22 to scrimmage Denver City at 6:30 p.m.

Our world

Puritans Not Alone

By ANN BROWN
The public outcry over the irresponsible and immoral remarks emanating from the White House assures all the puritans and squares that they are not alone in devotion to God and decency.

That the wife of the President of a Christian nation should speak out for legalized abortion and premarital sex is bad enough. But that her husband and the daughter involved approve her remarks is appalling.

At least, the woman is consistent: Premarital sex usually culminates in abortion. Mrs. Ford has certainly given a field day to the liberals and the amoral crowd.

For any mother to publicly declare she would counsel and advise her 18-year-old daughter on an affair, and discuss it as a "worthwhile encounter" is unbelievable. And such remarks from the First "Lady" is a national disgrace.

Mrs. Ford's remarks revealed more about herself than they did about her daughter. She was quoted as saying premarital sex might lessen the divorce rate.

On the contrary, ample statistics have been published to substantiate the fact that premarital sex by the wife is likely to doom the marriage.

When a pregnancy necessitates a marriage, it usually generates resentment in the husband, and insecurity in the wife. She wonders if he would have married her... And he may never know.

Isn't it rather unrealistic to expect a woman who did not observe chastity before marriage to maintain fidelity afterwards?

In a society where promiscuous sex is flaunted and encouraged, women who have the Christian principles and moral stamina to remain chaste may be abandoned or divorced by irresponsible husbands, but they rarely seek divorces themselves.

Few people remain chaste unless they believe in the sanctity of marriage. And rarely does one who believes in the sanctity of marriage ever file for divorce.

Before the President encourages his wife to "speak her mind," he should make sure she has a mind to speak.

It is balm to our national humiliation that the world knows this Christian nation did not elect Elder Gordon B. Hinckley (Mormon), and Dr. W. A. Criswell (Baptist) are to be commended for their public repudiation of Mrs. Ford's remarks.

The attitude of "Okay, she made a mistake; doesn't everybody" is as generous as it is erroneous.

There is no room for a mistake of that magnitude in the White House.

Only God knows how many girls fighting to keep their virtue against aggressive suitors may lose the battle over Mrs. Ford's toxic remarks about premarital sex lessening the divorce rate.

It is difficult enough for parents to bring up decent children in our amoral society without immorality being advocated by the nation's First Family.

It is amazing that any daughter would tolerate her mother making such indelicate and derogatory remarks about her in public.

For the girl to approve her mother's degrading statements, and add that she had no affair to talk about "Not yet," is incredible.

Our pledge of allegiance says we are a "nation under God." Our coins say "In God we trust."

For the First Family to speak out publicly against God's word (and our traditional national mores) may create an immoral avalanche that will finish off the frayed fabric of our society.

Hundreds of swimmers from approximately 70 swim clubs located throughout Texas converged on the West Texas State University campus Thursday. The Texas Age Group Swimming Championship is being held at the Activities Center with today being the last day of competition.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir,

I was greatly angered by the school board's opinions on boys' hair lengths. It seems to me that a school is a place of learning, not a charm school, and that in Junior High particularly students are learning more about themselves. One expression of this individuality is the way you wear your hair. Girls have not been limited in their choice of hair lengths; it has been understood that they would choose the length which is flattering, comfortable, and requires only the amount of care they are willing to give it. Obviously a certain length of hair will not fit these requirements for every girl. What tells us that a certain length of hair is right for each and every boy?

Certainly not God — I find no passage that states a certain length of hair is required for every male. In biblical times hair was often worn long. Does that mean that their hair length was distracting, unkempt-looking, or more easily gotten dirty? Many great men have had long hair — can you imagine Benjamin Franklin with a crew cut? They reflected the style of their times. The style of our times is finding the look that suits you best and for some young men that means hair which is not "no longer than the middle of the ear and not touching the collar."

I was not surprised to hear about the Texas case where it was ruled there was no constitutional right for a high school student to decide the length of his own hair. With so many obsolete laws from the nineteenth century around still, it is easy to believe there is also a law or two that is necessary but has not been made.

Moreover, supposing the school board has the right to regulate hair lengths at school, they have no right to do so anywhere else. If a boy's hair is cut the required length for school, it must remain that length even when he is on a date, at home, or walking down the street. If a boy's family does not object, why should a group of strangers?

I would be interested in knowing if the school board has consulted any students, teachers, or parents about their opinions. The board is not in school with the students nine months of the year.

May I add that I am a female student at Canyon Junior High School and that personally, I do not find long hair attractive on all boys. But being an average human being, all I can state is my opinion, and one should not force his personal opinion on others. I do also believe that every parent of junior high students and the students themselves should feel insulted that the school board does not feel them capable of deciding this matter for themselves.

Bicentennial Echoes From The Past

By MARY ALICE HINES

The pioneer woman had to cope with many adversities, the weather, the land, the many children she would have during her child-bearing years, and the illnesses she would have to treat for her brood.

In the absence of a doctor she had to use home remedies and her common sense to care for an ailing child.

My own grandmother, Mrs. C.F. Bennett of Dumas, had a recipe book for food and for home remedies that was written in the late 1880's. The following health suggestions are from this book:

Cure For Ringworms
Yellow dock, root or leaves, steeped in vinegar, will cure the worst case of ringworm.

Diphtheria
A gargle of sulphur and water has been used with much success in cases of diphtheria. Let the patient swallow a little of the mixture. Or, when you discover that your throat is a little sore, bind a strip of flannel around the throat, wet in camphor, and gargle salt and vinegar occasionally.

Cough Syrup
Syrup of squills four ounces, syrup of tolu four ounces, tincture of blood-root one and one-half ounces, camphorated tincture of opium four ounces. Mix. Dose for an adult, one teaspoonful repeated every two to four hours, or as often as necessary.

Relief From Asthma
Sufferers from asthma should get a muskrat skin and wear it over their lungs with the fur side next to the body. It will bring certain relief.

Or soak blotting paper in saltpetre water, then dry, burning it at night in the patient's bedroom.

Remedy For Lockjaw
Cure for lockjaw, said to be positive. Let anyone who has an attack of lockjaw take a small quantity of spirits of turpentine, warm it, and pour it in the wound — no matter where the wound is or what its nature is — and relief will follow in less than one minute. Turpentine is also a sovereign remedy for croup. Saturate a piece of flannel with it, and place the flannel on the throat and chest, and in very severe cases, three to five drops on a lump of sugar may be taken internally.

To Cure Earache
Take a bit of cotton batting, put on it a pinch of black pepper, gather it up and tie it, dip it in sweet oil, and insert it in the ear; put a flannel bandage over the head to keep it warm; it often gives immediate relief.

Tobacco smoke, puffed into the ear, has often been effectual.

Leanness
Is caused from a lack of power in the digestive organs to digest and assimilate the fat-producing elements of food. First restore digestion, take plenty of sleep, drink all the water the stomach will bear in the morning on rising, take moderate exercise in the open air, eat oatmeal, cracked wheat, graham mush, baked sweet apples, roasted and broiled beef, cultivate jolly people and bathe daily.

For Toothache
The worst toothache, or neuralgia, coming from the teeth may be speedily and delightfully ended by the application of a bit of clean cotton saturated in a solution of ammonia to the defective tooth. Sometime the late sufferer is prompted to momentary laughter by the application, but the pain will disappear.

Growing Pains Cured
Following in our mother's footsteps, we have been routed night after night from our warm quarters, in the dead of winter, to kindle fires and fill frosty kettles from water pails thickly crusted with ice, that we might get the writhing pedal extremities of our little heir into a tub of water as quickly as possible. But lately we have learned that all this work and exposure is needless. We simply wring a towel from salted water — a bowl of it standing in our sleeping room, ready for such an emergency — wrap the limb in it from the ankle to the knee, without taking the child from his bed, and then swathe with dry flannels, thick and warm, tucking the blankets about him a little close and relief is sure.

All of these remedies sound rather absurd during our modern age of science and medicine.

The good old days must have been really wild, especially if you had to catch the muskrat for your asthmatic child.

In the "Health Suggestions" portion of the book it also had an all-around piece of advice on how to stay healthy:

How To Keep Well
Don't sleep in a draught.
Don't go to bed with cold feet.
Don't stand over hot-air registers.
Don't eat what you do not need, just to save it.
Don't try to get cool too quickly after exercising.
Don't sleep in a room without ventilation of some kind.
Don't stuff a cold lest you should be next obliged to starve a fever.
Don't sit in a damp or chilly room without a fire.
Don't try to get along without flannel underclothing in winter.

Randall County corn growers are looking at prospects of a bumper crop, if this field on the Donald M. Olson farm northwest of Canyon is an indication. Stalks in this field are standing in excess of eight feet tall with tasseling progressing nicely.

Space Folder For Citizens

In commemoration of the historic Apollo Soyuz joint space mission, the U. S. Postal Service has prepared a special presentation folder portraying U. S. accomplishments in space.

The limited number of folders available will be sold by mail order through the Philatelic Sales Division in Washington for $2.50 each. Orders are limited to two folders per customer, and this quantity will be reduced if orders exceed supplies.

The colorful 12-page folder, measuring 8 1/2 x 11 inches, has affixed a vertical pair of the U. S. Apollo Soyuz stamps with a first-day of issue cancellation.

The title of the folder is "Man Is His Own Star," taken from a 17th Century poem by John Fletcher. Milestones in U. S. space achievement, from Project Mercury through Apollo Soyuz, are depicted through the U. S. stamps which were issued in honor of the missions.

Orders for the booklet should be addressed to Space Folder, Philatelic Sales Division, Washington, DC 20265.

Seniors Get Chance For ROTC Aid Here

The Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) is offering four-year college scholarships to high school seniors in the Texas Panhandle.

Scholarships can attend any college or university of their choice offering the four-year ROTC program, provided they are accepted by that school, said

Lt. Col. Charles L. Laakso, professor of military science at West Texas State University, in announcing the scholarships.

Deadline for application is next Dec. 1. Applications may be obtained by writing to Army ROTC, Ft. Monroe, Va., 23651 or the ROTC department at WTSU.

About 1,000 scholarships will be awarded this year, Laakso said. The scholarships provide for tuition, funds for textbooks and laboratory fees and a subsistence allowance of $100 per month for up to 10 months of each school year the scholarship is in effect, he added.

Upon graduation from college, the ROTC scholarship winner is commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army and is expected to serve on active duty a minimum of four years, Laakso said.

Organized Research Study On Oil, Birth, Politics

Seventeen organized research grant proposals ranging from the effects of birth control pills to oil and politics have been funded at West Texas State University for the academic year 1975-76.

Twenty-one WTSU professors will receive almost $40,000 from state funds appropriated for the purpose.

"The purpose of these grants is to stimulate the faculty to do research in the basic and applied areas of their disciplines," said Dr. David Wheeler, dean of the WTSU Graduate School.

"They provide seed money for those who have worthwhile research projects who may, as a consequence, of their research, obtain additional funds from the federal government, foundations or private companies or individuals," Wheeler says.

"The Effects of Chemicals from Birth Control Pills," will be studied by Biologist Douglas Bingham, with "The Effects of the Birth Control Pill on Embryonic Development in Early Pregnancy" being analyzed by Dr. Prentice Caraway.

In agriculture, Dr. Leonard Wilson will study the "Evaluation of Composted Feedlot Residues and Soil Activator" and Drs. Doug Williams and Kenneth Wendland will look at the "Comparative Costs and Returns of Overhead Sprinkler versus Flood Irrigation in Alfalfa Production for a Specified Area of the Texas Panhandle."

Many different looks compose the Fall '75 fashion picture. Available choices from among major silhouettes, separates and accessories can extend existing wardrobes, flatter the individual and tie-in to clothing needs. The mood is refined subtle and soft.

The newest silhouette is tube and slim featuring slim wrap skirts, soft bodydresses and single breasted blazer suits. A carry over look is the Built-Up Big Look showing fullness in layered lengths and separates with dirndl, bias or gored skirts.

Chinese influence is seen in mandarin necklines, frog closings, quilted fabrics, side buttoning, kimono sleeves, obi sash, and in colors of laquer red, jade green, and shiny black.

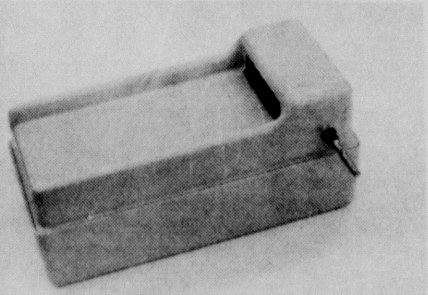

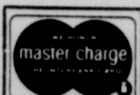

Fashion details include tucking or shirred accents, drawstring waistlines, hoods and tunics and togas. Accessories to choose from include vests, scarves, mufflers and shawls.

Footwear features boots, wedges, sandals and straps. Belts come wide or narrow, hosiery is textured and colored. Finish your look with a clutch or pouch.

The European influence for men and boys calls for a layered effect with large over-shirts and loose full sweaters. Turtleneck varieties will be popular as well as cardigans, shown in shawl and regular collar designs, often given new zip with argyle patterns and leather and tweed yarns.

Vests are coming on strong and leisure jackets range from shirt length to bush, battle and safari cuts. In general, suits are more fully cut. Making an impact is the bridge suit, something between the standard cut type and the totally casual leisure suit. It may come with a bal collar or pea jacket top or belted.

Community Clubs Beginning Return To

A large number of local women have "got the kids back in school," "Hubby off to work," "their household chores in order" and will spend a portion of their fall, winter and spring months working toward improvement of self concepts through participation in any number of the city's clubs.

With the approach of September each year, clubwomen seem to get a twinge for seeing old friends and having a few hours discussion for enrichment of their own lives, improvement of their community and bettering their understanding of family and friends.

Clubs available locally offer a variety of interest fulfillments for their memberships and anyone interested in becoming a part of these endeavors should contact the various club presidents or a member of the group for further stipulations on joining.

Federated clubwork is available for city women through three general and two junior federated clubs which are guided by the Federated Club's Council. The council is composed of representatives from each of the five clubs in Canyon and meets as deemed necessary to plan such events as the annual Federated Club's Dinner which involves membership from all of the clubs.

Mrs. John Childs of University Study Club is the current chairman for the Federated Club's Council and also presides at regular monthly meetings of the USC. The first meeting for the USC will be held September 12 at the University Church of Christ at 1:15 p.m. as club members are presented with the 1975-76 yearbooks along with brief planning discussions for the club's annual Home Tour and other projects.

A majority of the city's clubs will be presenting their new yearbooks to members at the September sessions and reviewing plans for the coming season, with general federation clubwork by Woman's Book Club kicking off September 10 at 3 p.m. at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Crews Henry for a report on Paul Revere to be given by Nora Killian. Mrs. Lon Fanning will lead the club for the coming year.

Guided by Mrs. Larry Holman the Sue Hite Club of Canyon will convene September 22 at the Crews Henry home, 2618 3rd Avenue, for a covered dish supper. A preview of the year's programs which are to follow the theme "Our Heritage — Guidelines For A Better Tomorrow" will be presented.

Canyon Study Club, which annually sponsors a Halloween festivity for the city's youth and the spring 'Miss Canyon' pageant, will begin the new year at a September 15 session. Mrs. Jerry Becknell is the club's president for the coming year and the first meeting will be at the B.B. Kendrick home.

Mrs. John Plank will serve as the president of Heritage Woman's Club for the coming year which is to be kicked off with a program on "The Law-The Juvenile" September 22. The club annually sponsors a youth talent program and is this year working on a bi-centennial quilt to be given to the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum when finished.

Federated clubwork and programs are also conducted at the high school level through the Les Amies Juniors Club which this year is to be led by Roma Johnson, president. The high school level of clubwork originated here through co-sponsorship of Heritage Woman's Club and Canyon Study Club. Both clubs continue to provide adult sponsors with Mrs. Patricia Vise from HWC and Mrs. Kathy Kendrick of the CSC serving this year.

Aside from federated club activities, many Canyon women have become involved in promotion of the community through the women's division of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. The women's division will be led this year by Mrs. Leon Gheer. The group meets for weekly dutch luncheons on Tuesdays at the Yum Yum Tree Restaurant. The total membership is welcome to attend the weekly luncheons and regular board meetings are held in "odd" months throughout the year with general membership sessions during "even" months. The next general membership meeting is set for October 7.

Monthly meetings are held by the Tierra Blanca Chapter of the National Secretaries Association which includes business women from the Canyon-Herford areas.

The organization of professional women annually sponsors various seminars and participates in the observance of National Secretaries Week along with aiding the Future Secretaries Association on the campus of West Texas State University.

The Canyon branch of the American Association of University Women will begin the fall season with a membership tea on Sunday, September 7, from 2-4 p.m. at the Jack Taylor home, 417 Taylor Lane in Canyon. AAUW membership is available to all women holding the baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university.

Information concerning membership is available from Jane Munsell, membership chairman, or from Maxine Sherrod, chapter president for the coming year.

An association of wives of administrators, faculty members and other staff members at West Texas State University as well as women in other capacities at the university composes the membership for Faculty Wives, Etc. Two events for September have been planned by Wives, Etc.

under the guidance of Mrs. John Green, president. The Wives, Etc. group will hostess a "newcomer's coffee" for faculty and staff members on September 3 at the home of university president Lloyd Watkins, 13 Southridge Drive and have scheduled a "backyard social" for members and prospectives to be held September 6 at 4 p.m. in the backyard of the Ray Lumry home, 505 Taylor Lane.

All new residents of the city will be welcomed at another

Professors Co-Author Article

Two West Texas State University psychology professors will publish an article on child aggression and parental punishment this fall in the Journal of Psychology.

Drs. Louis Fairchild and William Erwin, in their article "Physical Punishment by Parent Figures as a Model of Aggressive Behavior in Children," suggest that "punitive parents are more likely to set the stage for aggressive behavior on the part of their children."

Their findings, they say, were obtained from tests on 60 elementary-age boys, 30 of whom were shown a filmed sequence of a parent physically punishing a child while the other 30 were shown a filmed sequence devoid of physical punishment. The boys' reactions in play periods afterwards were the gauge to determine the stimulus towards aggressive behavior.

They say their findings showed that the boys who viewed the punitive film exhibited significantly fewer responses indicating feelings of mutual companionship than did the boys who viewed the nonpunitive film.

The punitive group also manifested fewer instances of dependency needs, fewer happy states and more acts of aggressive mischief, they say. However, for the punitive group, there were significantly fewer acts of physical discipline than for the nonpunitive group.

"The implications are for long term kinds of problems," Fairchild says. "If you get this kind of response in a 30-minute session, what are the potentials if a child is exposed to a punitive parent day to day?"

"The chances are that the aggressive reaction will become more indelible rather than temporary," he adds.

"Since December we have had 93 per cent placement of our graduates," says West Texas State University Placement Director Gene Parker.

"I guess we have found jobs for more than 2,000 students," he adds, "and we wish we had more students to place."

Employees in great demand are industrial education, physical science and mathematics teachers, junior high school coaches and graduates in computer science, industrial distribution, industrial technology and agri-business.

"We have had 110 per cent to placement in some fields," Parker says. "We've not only placed our graduates but graduates from other schools."

Parker says the only graduates he has had difficulty placing are elementary school, biology and history teachers who want to stay in the Amarillo-Canyon area.

Noting the value of a college education for finding a job, Parker cites statistics from the U.S. Bureau of Labor which show the jobless rate for those with four or more years of college was 2.9 per cent, for those who dropped out of college after one to three years was 6.9 per cent and for high school dropouts was 15.2 per cent.

newcomer's brunch to be presented by the Canyon Dames, a social entity, and has been set for September 17 at 10 a.m. in the Eddy Clark home at 2614 11th Avenue. Mrs. Bob Hand is current chairman for the Canyon

Dames which meets monthly for various programs, luncheons and other events welcoming new residents to the city.

Canyon's Fine Arts Club has been busy throughout the summer months with a committee designing and preparing to make a large wall hanging to depict the history of Randall County. The wall hanging will be among fall projects of the club along with monthly programs relating to the arts. The club, guided by Mrs. Margaret Harper, president, plans to present the finished wall hanging to the Canyon City Library when it opens in new facilities at the new City Hall Complex.

Community involvement and volunteer work is also available to local residents through the Canyon branch of the "Friends of the Library," the Panhandle Plains Historical Museum Auxiliary, Canyon Meals-On-Wheels program, and the Palo Duro Hospital Auxiliary with memberships consisting of volunteer workers.

Those who like discussing "gardens" with their neighbors are invited to join the Canyon Garden Club which meets on a monthly basis for informational programs about gardening. The club will begin the season Sept. 16 with a salad fete at 7:30 p.m. in the Tom Beard home. Mrs. Paul Glover is the 1975-76 president for the club which involves both men and women gardeners throughout the county.

Several clubs are available in the county for those interested in home demonstration activities or working with youth of the community as 4-H leaders. The Randall County Home Demonstration Council meets on a monthly basis with Mrs. Bill West, council chairman, and the various HD Club presidents reporting on club activities covering the county.

Mrs. Becky Hall, county extension agent in home economics, meets with the HD council regularly to keep current homemaker information channeled to the clubs gives programs of interest for the individual clubs each year.

Individual social enrichment is also offered through the various sorority alumnae chapters which work directly with the active sorority chapters on the campus of West Texas State University. Alumnae chapters are available here for Delta Zeta, Zeta Tau Alpha, Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi and Kappa Delta.

Four chapters of Beta Sigma Phi sorority are also available in Canyon, including Alpha Theta Delta, Chi Upsilon, Xi Kappa Zeta and Preceptor Gamma Chi.

Promotional activities for Canyon folks is not limited strictly to women as the public schools have parent-sponsor groups for numerous groups including the school band program, the football team, the choral department, etc.

Men of the community also have their own opportunity for enrichment programs at weekly meetings such as the Rotary Club (which meets Tuesday noons), the Canyon Lions Club (which meets Wednesday noons), The Canyon Kiwanis Club (which meets Friday noons) and the Evening Lions Clubs (which gathers Monday evenings). The men's noon civic club meetings include a luncheon and are held at Canyon Community Center with the evening group meetings at the Village Inn, 7 p.m., on Mondays.

And as residents reach their golden years, fellowship is offered through the Canyon Senior Citizens Association open to both men and women, age 55 up, who like to share a potluck supper and fellowship and games each week. The Senior Citizens organization meets Thursday evenings, 7 p.m., at Canyon Community Center and have recently purchased a new site for meetings at 1719 5th Avenue which will be used for the weekly gatherings and other activities as soon as remodeling projects are completed.

Teachers To Hear Speech

Dr. Don Ensvick, head of the industrial education department at West Texas State University, will be addressing the Canyon High School vocational education teachers during an inservice day, Aug. 19.

Dr. Ensvick will speak on the topic "Vocational Education Teachers Liability in the Classroom and/or Lab."

The presentation will be held at 1 p.m. Aug. 19 in room 108 in the vocational education building on the CHS campus.

ROTC Woman Wants More In Courses

As one of only nine women enrolled in the ROTC program at West Texas State University, during the spring semester, Jo Ann Holley wishes more would join.

The Gainesville freshman considers the course a "challenge." "Most women don't go into this area. I think it gives me a chance to show my ability."

Women taking the military science course are required to do all that the men do except carry weapons and participate in hand-to-hand combat, although Jo Ann said hand-to-hand combat was practiced in lab.

She said she had scaled the wall of the old Administration Building several times.

In lecture class, Jo Ann said they studied formations during combat and war in addition to the good and bad traits of leaders.

At the end of last semester, Jo Ann ranked in the top 10 percent of her military science class and received a $50 motivational scholarship. She was one of seven basic cadets and the only woman to receive the scholarship.

Jo Ann regrets that military science is not offered as a major at WT. Computer Information Systems is her major and she is minoring in military science.

"WT has a good business department and a good military science department. And the people are friendly."

Before coming to WT, Jo Ann considered Texas Tech and Sul Ross State College in Alpine.

"Tech was too large and Sul Ross didn't have a good CIS lab." Jo Ann is a member of the Angel Corps, drill team, the ROTC color guard and the Little Star, a sister sorority to Scabbard and Blade, the national military science honor society.

During her junior year, she plans to sign a contract for obligatory military service and earn $100 a month while still in school.

After graduating as a second lieutenant, she will serve in the Army from four to six years as a computer programmer.

Savings Bond Report Given

June sales of Series E and H United States Savings Bonds in Randall County were reported recently by County Bond Chairman Don Mac Vans.

Sales for the six-month period totaled $97,594 for 39% of the 1975 sales goal of $250,000.

Texas sales during the month amounted to $19,368,773, while sales for the first half of 1975 totaled $120,960,714 with 52% of the yearly sales goal of $234.3 million.

ROTC Plans Welcome Fete

The West Texas State University ROTC department will welcome students to the fall semester with a free cookout Aug. 28 on the campus.

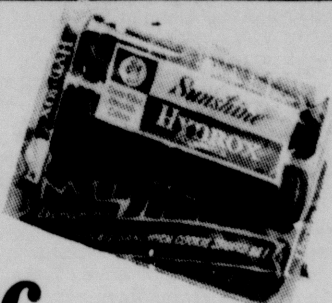

Capt. Russell Moore, assistant professor of military science, said the cookout, which will feature grilled hamburgers and cokes, will be from 5 to 7 p.m. on the lawn between the old administration and education buildings.

Candlelight Service Unites Miss Jones-Darrell Morgan

Miss Victoria Kay Jones and Gaylon Darrell Morgan were married in double ring ceremonies Friday evening, August 15, at the First Baptist Church of Amarillo with Dr. Winfred Moore officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B.J. Jones of 6206 Adirondack, Amarillo and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Morgan of Backacres Road, Canyon.

Five candelabrum formed the altar background with spiral candelabrum flanking each side and greenery accents highlighting the candlelight service performed in the glow of 60 tapers. Large baskets of pastel summer flowers framed the setting and aisle pews were marked with bows and flowers with hanging streamers. The aisle cloth and kneeling bench were used in the traditional marriage service.

Organist, Susie Hamby, presented appropriate music for the occasion and a guitar presentation by Richard Palmer complemented his wife, Linda Palmer, as she presented vocal arrangements of the Wedding Song, Russ's Song and A Gift For You.

Betsy Palmer, a cousin of the bride from Tulsa, Oklahoma, served as the maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Connie Morgan, sister of the groom, Mrs. Russell Nunn of Lawton, Oklahoma and Darla Slagle. The four bridal attendants were gowned in light blue silk organza over blue taffeta and featured raised waistlines with modified full skirts. The bodices had a scooped neckline trimmed with a full double ruffles which complemented the puffed sleeve styling. Each attendant carried a blue and white floral bouquet and had short veiling complemented with blue ribbon for their headdress.

Attired in a dress similar to the other bridal attendants, the bride's cousin, Teresa Palmer of Tulsa, Oklahoma, served as the flower girl. The ring bearer was Todd Howard, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Mark Bowers served as best man and groomsmen included Ronald Jones, a brother of the bride, Lennie Turner and David Turk Nelson, a cousin of the bridegroom. Ushers were Joe Warren and Roy Gibson.

Silk organza over delustered satin was featured in the bridal dress which had a raised waistline with an off the shoulder neckline accentuated with a lace banding encrusted with pearls. The full skirt of the wedding dress had a shaped back and formed a self train. The formal length sleeves were gathered into re-embroidered lace cuffs and lace medallions, accented with pearls, formed applique designs covering the bridal skirt. A wide ruffle framed the hemline with a banding of re-embroidered lace and handmade silk rose accents to complete the original wedding gown made by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Leo C. Hail.

She carried a bouquet of white roses with greenery accents and baby's breath.

Musical selections were presented at the piano by Mrs. Pat Dean during the reception which followed in the church parlor. Fresh blue and white flowers were used to complement the four tiers of the wedding cake which was served by Lisa Cook, Melody Bell and Anita Warren. After a wedding tour of the West Coast and the Rocky Mountain States, the couple will establish their home at 117 Siesta Lane in Canyon.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Tascosa High School and presently attend Amarillo College where she is majoring in business accounting and he studies sheet metal as a third year apprentice in the field. She is also employed as a bookkeeper part-time with Lady Pat Dress Shop in Amarillo.

Miss Artho-Grady Marry In Ceremonies

Double ring marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Laurie Artho and Ronald Ray Grady in ceremonies Saturday evening at the Immaculate Conception Church of Vega.

Father Jack Gist of St. Ann's Catholic Church, Canyon, officiated at the ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Artho of Wildorado with the son of Mrs. Carl Roberts, 1215 East Hastings in Amarillo, and Bobby Jack Grady of Glendale, Ariz.

An arrangement of white gladioli and pompons with tones of blue framed the altar area for the nuptial rites. Mrs. Rosemary Raemaekers of UMBARGER was organist and soloists presenting a duet arrangement were Vicki Gerber and Elaine Raemaekers. Servers of the mass were Tim Artho, brother of the bride, and Freddie Fangman.

The bride selected a gown of white chiffon, overlaid with lace and accented with seed pearls for her marriage and was escorted to the altar for presentation by her father. The wedding dress featured formal length with sheer cuffed sleeves and flowed from the fitted waist to form a cathedral length wedding train.

Her wedding veil was held to a Juliet cap and flowed to the full length of the wedding train. The wedding dress was designed and made by the bride's mother and accented with a gold chain and cross worn by her great-grandmother on her wedding day. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations atop her mother's bridal prayer book for the occasion.

Floor length blue crepe dresses featuring white lace bodices were worn by the bridal attendants including Babette Stengel of Hereford, Karen Artho of Amarillo, a cousin of the bride, and Marla Artho, sister of the bride, who served as the maid of honor. Each bridal attendant carried a single red rose and wore a white plantation hat trimmed with blue ribbons and a red rose.

Mark France of Glendale, Ariz., served as best man and the groomsmen were Chock Grady of Clarendon, a brother of the bridegroom, and Jerry Artho, the bride's brother.

Ushers were Dale Artho, a brother of the bride, John Hall of Clarendon, a cousin of the bridegroom, and David Artho of Hereford.

Wedding guests were entertained at a reception in the Catholic Hall at Vega where they were served cake which had been prepared and decorated by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. George Brockman of UMBARGER. Serving were Cherri Fangman and Stephanie Brockman, cousins of the bride, from Vega, and Rita Guill of Miami. The bride's sister, Nancy Spinhirne, registered wedding guests and rice bags were distributed by Amy Artho, sister of the bride, and Sharon Williams, the bridegroom's sister. The reception included a wedding dance with music furnished by Lou Hurt.

The bride completed her first six years of schooling at UMBARGER before going to Vega where she was graduated from high school. For the past two years, the bride has been a student at West Texas State University.

Schools in Glendale, Ariz., were attended by the bridegroom who is presently employed with Amarillo Aeration and Temperature Company.

Summer Ceremonies Unite Local Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Fox exchanged double ring marriage vows in ceremonies July 28 at the First Baptist Church Chapel in Amarillo with William Bruce Dean officiating.

The bride is the former Claudia Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin N. Hodges of Rt. 4, Canyon. She is a graduate of Canyon High School and employed with Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fox of 142 North Beverly, Amarillo are parents of the bridegroom. Employed by Cablevision of Amarillo, he is a graduate of Tascosa High School.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Mrs. Patty Lester of Amarillo for the ceremony performed amidst baskets of white spider mums with greenery flanking the altar area.

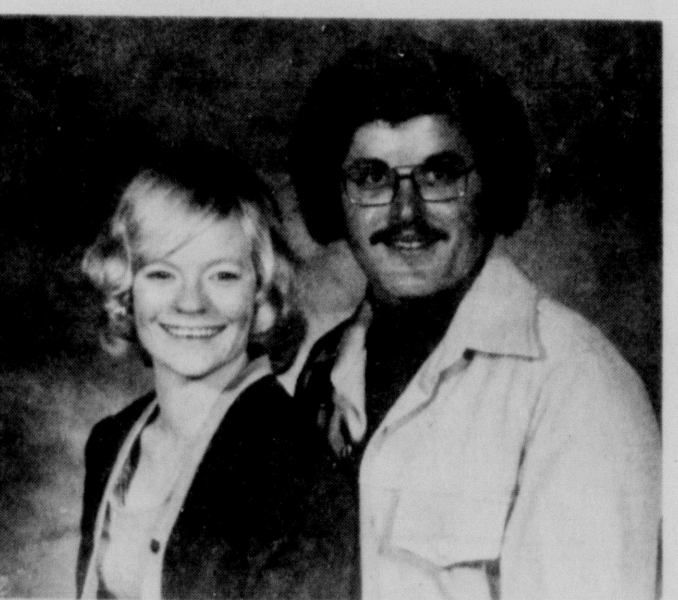

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a natural color wedding dress with high waist styling, stand-up collar and long puffed sleeves with wide cuffs. The hemline of the bridal gown was edged with ruffles and the bride's shoulder length tiered veil of natural color illusion was held to a petal cap headdress. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and baby's breath.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Susan Elaine Martin of Amarillo. She carried a French styled nosegay of varied colors accented with a green ribbon trim and wore a high waisted mint green formal length dress featuring short bell sleeves with a tie belt for back accent.

Robert B. Fox of Amarillo served his brother as best man and wedding guests were ushered by Jerry West and Stephen Deane, both of Amarillo.

A reception honoring the newlyweds was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Serving at the reception table were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Don Hollingsworth and Mrs. Presley D. Yarbrough. Guests were registered by Kathy Waltman of Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Fox

Yearbooks Needed From Clubs

Yearbooks for all women's clubs in Canyon are requested to be furnished to the Canyon News social desk at the earliest convenience of the various clubs.

The yearbooks are a vital link in covering current happenings of the various clubs. If your club is not printing a yearbook, it would be to the advantage of the club to furnish a typed list showing dates of meetings, where meetings will be held each month, along with special programs and other projects of interest for listing on the monthly activities calendar.

Miss Hicks-Reed Marry At Campus Chapel Here

Double ring marriage vows for Miss Randy Rogene Hicks and Alan Bennett Reed were solemnized in ceremonies at Joseph Hill Memorial Chapel on the campus of West Texas State University at 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon, Aug. 16.

Rev. M.O. Evans, retired Baptist minister, officiated at the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Essie Hicks of Plainview and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Reed of Sublette, Kan.

A branched candelabrum with blue tapers flanked by matching arrangements of yellow mums, blue carnations and baby's breath decorated the chapel. The wedding aisle was lined with blue votive cup candles marking the family pews and a memory candle completed decorations.

Barron White, vocalist, presented Wedding Song and Colour My World with piano accompaniment by Sheryl White.

Lyn Gaither of Plainview served as the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Sherry Hicks of Midland, a niece of the bride, Janet Dickson of Plainview and Leann Reed and Rebekah Reed, both of Sublette, Kan., and sisters of the bridegroom.

The bridal attendants wore floor length dresses featuring square necklines, puffed sleeves and deep ruffle flounce hemline styling. The maid of honor, Miss Gaither, wore blue organza and carried a nosegay of blue and yellow carnations with baby's breath. Two bridesmaids wore blue organza dresses and the other two were gowned in yellow as each carried a nosegay arrangement of blue carnations and baby's breath.

Fred Ross of Edmond, Okla., was best man. Groomsmen were Dennis Reed of Sublette, Kan., a brother of the bridegroom, Glenn Lester of Canyon, Frank Phelan III of Houston and Claud Lovell of Norman, Okla.

Candlelighter was Donnie Hicks of Midland, a nephew of the bride, and ringbearer was Scott Hicks of Midland, the bride's nephew. Ushering were Ray Silva of Nagatuck, Conn., Mark Chaffin of Norman, Okla., and Charlie Smith of Canyon.

Presented in marriage by her brother, Johnny Hicks, the bride wore a floor length wedding gown of sheer organza and chantilly lace designed with a fitted bodice of lace and stand-up collar overlaid with scalloped lace. The fitted lace sleeves featured arm and wrist ruffles of blue organza and the controlled skirt was swept to back fullness and completely bordered with a flounce of lace which formed the sanctuary train. Her mantilla styled wedding veil was framed with matching lace. She carried a nosegay of white Sweetheart roses and white carnations trimmed in blue and yellow and accented with baby's breath.

Tables covered with a white linen cloth and decorated with bouquets of the maid of honor and bridesmaids highlighted the reception held at the Baptist Student Union. In the reception houseparty were Kim Bush, Cindy Gestes, Mrs. Pam Tubbs and Teri Harris.

The bride changed to a purple pantsuit for travel. After a honeymoon in the Dallas area, the couple will establish their home near UMBARGER.

A graduate of Plainview High School, the bride is a senior nursing major at West Texas State University and member of the West Texas Nursing Students Association.

Employed with Saga Food Services, the bridegroom is a graduate of Booker High School and formerly attended the University of Oklahoma. He is a senior biology major at West Texas State University and member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and Alpha Phi Omega.

Butterworth's United In Nuptial Ceremonies

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac W. Butterworth will be establishing their home in Levelland, Texas in early September following the confirmation of their wedding vows read Saturday evening, August 16, at the First Baptist Church in Amarillo.

Rev. Herschel E. Moore, pastor of the Palisades Baptist Church, performed the double ring marriage for Miss Janice Kay Bremer and Isaac W. Butterworth amidst a setting of natural greenery and candelabrum.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bremer, Jr. of 1112 Alta Vista, Amarillo. She formerly attended Amarillo College and West Texas State University and at the time of her marriage was employed as a new accounts representative with the American National Bank.

Formerly of Fort Worth, Mr. Butterworth is a graduate of Baylor University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He is the son of William Butterworth of Salem, New Jersey. The bridegroom has recently completed a year's internship in the pastoral care of the Village Church in Kansas City, Kansas and is presently beginning his pastorate with the First Presbyterian Church of Levelland.

Traditional nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. Euna Vae Izard and the bride's attendants included her sister, Mrs. Carole Lara of El Paso, Miss Lynda Damon of Canyon, Mrs. Yolanda Moore of Amarillo and Miss Carolyn Kelley of Omaha, Nebraska.

Attendants to the bridegroom were Roger Bradshaw of Fort Worth, Eddie Alley of Garland, Cliff Abshire of Uvalde and Paul Outon of Austin. Ushering were Don Cameron of Austin, Art Lara of El Paso, and Roger Todd of Amarillo.

The bride's formal wedding gown of white satin featured a fitted bodice with high rounded neckline trimmed with aleon lace. The long closely fitted sleeves complemented the A-line skirt which swept softly to a

Wintertime Hobby----For The Birds

Bird feeding and just plain watching — or birding as the experts call it — is becoming an increasingly popular and worthwhile pastime for nature lovers of any age.

Man has long taken satisfaction in helping to support birds by providing feed for them — food that is important to their survival. Bird experts tell us an

Fall Marriage Planned

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lewis of Olton announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kim, and Marvin Griffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Griffin of Canyon.

The couple is making plans for marriage vows to be read September 27 in Olton.

Miss Lewis, a graduate of Olton High School, completed a year of business courses at West Texas State University and is presently employed with Southwestern Investment Company (SIC) in Amarillo.

The prospective bridegroom graduated from Canyon High School and is an employee of Plains Chevrolet, Amarillo.

acre of land will usually support no more than 10 wild birds, and birds that do not head south during the winter spend 90 per cent of their day searching for food.

Of course, the sheer enjoyment of having birds close by is, in itself, a motivating factor in providing food for them. Ornithologists and bird lovers have discovered certain feeder characteristics that attract birds.

The feeder should be in subtle, natural, earthen colors. Bright colors frighten birds. It should have tinted or frosted windows so the bird isn't frightened by his reflection as he approaches the feeder. Perches should be large enough to provide solid, comfortable footing to various sizes of birds.

The feed should be protected with an over-hang and the feeder should have drain holes so if the feed does get wet, it dries quickly. Rubbermaid has incorporated these features into all its bird feeders.

Location of the feeder is important in attracting birds. Feeders near shrubbery often attract birds because the shelter and protection they need is close at hand.

Selective feeding of birds is an art, but there are some simple tricks to attract some birds, and discourage others. For example, blue-jays and starlings, ever-present and often mean, shun hanging bird feeders. One sure way to discourage them is to hang the feeder rather than mounting it on a pole. These aggressive birds also like to feed on the ground, so spreading food away from the feeder will distract them.

Food preferences vary greatly, but wild bird seed mixture is fairly inexpensive and will please many species of birds. Cardinals and larger birds like sunflower seeds, and smaller birds feed on the corn and millet seed of the mixture.

A bird feeder, a bag of seed and a bird book would make an ideal gift for any age. It could be the beginning of a new hobby for a boy or girl, teenager or adult. It's helpful, it's fun and it increases awareness of the relationships in our environment.

And, it's all for the birds!

Wives, Etc. will begin the new season on September 3 with a newcomers coffee for university faculty and staff members at the Loyd Watkins home and a backyard social for the membership on September 6 at the Ray Lumry home.

Hospital Auxiliary Elects Officers For Coming Year

Palo Duro Hospital Auxiliary members gathered last Monday, August 11, for a business meeting during which Mrs. O.W. Parker, Jr. was elected to serve as president of the volunteer organization.

Other officers elected on the slate for the new year were Mrs. Harold Dillehay, first vice president; Mrs. Fred Olsen, second vice president; Mrs. Hatcher Brown, secretary; and Mrs. David LaBrie, treasurer.

The organization of volunteer hospital workers includes approximately 30 local women and Mrs. Robert Busted, retiring president, was in charge of the business session.

Installation rites for new officers will be conducted September 2 at the Auxiliary's meeting in the hospital dining room.

News Brief

Army Spec. 5 Oliver F. Murrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver C. Murrell of Canyon, was awarded a safe driving certificate while serving with the 4th Transportation Brigade at Mannheim, Germany.

The army said the award was in recognition for driving military vehicles 6,000 miles with no accidents or traffic violations.

Mrs. Carl (Darlene) Hollabaugh of Canyon has been selected by the board of advisors for the Outstanding Young Women of America Program to be included in the 1975 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America." Mrs. Hollabaugh, along with approximately 6,000 other outstanding young women of the United States, are now being considered for further state and national awards. Pressure canners are needed to process foods low in acid content. Bacteria will not be killed unless low-acid foods are cooked for a long period of time at boiling temperatures.

Cooking with a pressure canner raises the temperature used to kill these bacteria and takes only a fraction of the time for the canning process.

It is safe to can jams, jellies, fruit butters and high-acid foods without a pressure canner.

Foods which don't require pressure canning are cucumbers when pickled, cabbage when made into kraut and fruits including some tomatoes, pears and cherries.

Foods which do require pressure canning are asparagus, beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, corn, hominy, okra, peas, pumpkin, spinach, turnips and all meats.

HOW'S The Electric Company DOING?

Let's ask Jim Atchison, one of our town managers

"These compression connectors, such as I'm using in reconnecting this service loop, and of which we have to use many, jumped in cost 57% since 1965. Another size increased 61%. Everything costs us more these days so these higher costs are reflected in what you pay for electricity. Yet, if we are all to have dependable electric service, it's a price we have to pay."

Scholarships Awarded Five From "TEXAS" Summer Cast

"Ten Years of TEXAS" was the theme of this year's annual TEXAS Originals program held last Sunday evening in the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State University.

Five scholarships amounting to $100 each were presented to cast and crew members during the evening. Receiving stipends for their education were Don Strubling, a show concessionaire, Kevin Lancaster, a violinist in the show, Joe Clark, a dancer, Marla McGill, singer and guitarist, and Joe Anderson, who performs with the tenor quartet. The Originals show included choreography arrangement by David Brownlee for "America" with Brownlee and Sandra Parker performing the number. The presentation "Give My Regards To Broadway" was choreographed as an original number by David Brownlee with Daryl Goodall presenting piano accompaniment.

Rodney Jenkins was original choreographer for "Easy Street" which featured Jenkins, Terry Head and Sandra Parker in performance.

Composed by Marla McGill were the original selections of "Mirliton Parade" and "If We Could Love." Performing in Miss McGill's first number with her were Fred Mays, Kathy McNeil, Dennis Sullivan and Rosemary Burkhart. Her second composition was presented by Kathy McNeil and Fred Mays in addition to Miss McGill.

Music and lyrics for "My Lover's Wordless Song" were originals by Bill Hudman with the performance given by Bill Hudman and Mike Raillard.

James Bickford presented original choreography for "Clap Hands Here Comes Charlie" and "There's Gonna Be A Great Day." Performing in the first number with Bickford was Gayla Carver. The presentation of "There's Gonna Be A Great Day" featured Patti Clabaugh singing, Caryl Goodall at the piano and Billy Prescott, bass with dancers including Gayla Carver, Jim Bickford, Linda Kincaid and David Brownlee.

Other selections presented during the evening were a "Texas Originals Salute" featuring traditional music with lyrics composed by Steve Hilton. The skit was among sketches saluting "TEXAS" tenth season and was an early day salute to Margaret Harper and the play's author, Paul Green.

Also on the program were "Old Smoky," "Judy Blue Eyes," "Brian's Song," "Too Late," "A Day At The Races" and several other presentations featuring cast members from the "TEXAS" outdoor show. Intermission featured a presentation of art by cast members shown in the Formal Lounge.

The annual Originals program was co-ordinated by Ron Williams and Dwayne Hood with sets by Joan Grady, Pinky Floyd as stage manager, and lighting direction by Steve Hilton, Ron Williams and Bill Huff. The program was compiled by Robin McKenzie Goodhue and publicity coordinated by Jane Bivins Lipscomb.

The scholarship committee consisted of Royal Brantley, Mrs. Margaret Moore, Debra Black, Bob Seeds and Robin McKenzie Goodhue. Hospitality arrangements were made by Pamela Hurst and Donna Hilton.

Hospital Insurance Rates Reasonable

The administrator of Palo Duro Hospital said the hospital has experienced no difficulty so far in getting adequate liability insurance at reasonable rates.

Ray Grimes said that although no final decision has been made, the hospital has no intention of participating in the Texas Hospital Association's plan to organize its own insurance company to write malpractice coverage.

"Rates definitely are on the increase," Grimes said, adding the rates "are not excessive by any means. We have no problems in getting someone to write us."

The Texas Hospital Association said in a statement from its Austin headquarters that 189 hospitals in the state have indicated they want to participate in this hospital-owned insurance company to be known as Texas Hospital's Insurance Exchange.

The THA statement said the company had $300,000 on deposit and expected to double the amount in the near future as more hospitals sign up.

"The Elder: In Praise, In Outrage" will be the title of the morning worship at 10 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon. Filling the pulpit in absence of the pastor will be Rev. Terry White, pastor of Canyon's First Christian Church.

The "move back home" for First Baptist Church congregation was delayed this past week after a meeting of the building committee. Rather than being home today, Aug. 17, the church will be back in the newly remodeled sanctuary for worship services on August 31. Open house and other special services are now being planned during September.

Late September is the target date now for First United Methodist Church members to begin holding worship services in their new $540,000 addition, according to Rev. Bill Kent.

Next week the First Baptist Church will resume their catered suppers for the mid-week service on Wednesday evenings. The meal will be served at 6 p.m. with the charge being $1.25 adults, $1 students grade 7 through college and 75 cents for first through sixth grade students. The mid-week supper this week, August 20, will be a potluck affair for church members, however.

Dwayne Dennis, minister of the University Church of Christ in Canyon, along with his wife, Marcia, recently returned to their hometown, Tipton. The Dennis family was there for a gospel meeting and report that the hometown church was filled for services.

"The Return," a film retelling and foretelling the events leading to the final hours of world history, will be shown this evening, August 17, at Calvary Baptist Church in Canyon. The film, narrated by Hal Lindsey, was originally scheduled last week.

Boating, skiing, swimming and fellowship are scheduled for the junior and senior students of First Baptist Church today with Sunday School director, Anita O'Donald in charge. The group will meet at the Youth Activity Building at 1 p.m. to depart for Cedar Canyon and are expected back in Canyon around 10 p.m.

Cabinet Retreat for those of the First Christian Church has been scheduled for next Saturday, August 23, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the church parsonage. The fellowship and planning meetings held in the congregational homes earlier in the summer were a forerunner to the decisions which will be made at the Cabinet Retreat.

Mrs. Larry Wall, church secretary at the First United Methodist Church, will be back from a summer vacation and resume her duties at the church office this week.

A C. E. potluck dinner is on the schedule Thursday evening, August 21, for old and new teachers at the First Presbyterian Church at 6:30 p.m.

The children's learning center project of First United Methodist Church is continuing throughout August.

Next Sunday, Aug. 24, the congregation of First Presbyterian Church is planning to have an evening picnic at 5:30 p.m. in Connor Park.

A parent-son banquet for the Royal Ambassadors (RAs) of First Baptist Church is set for Thursday evening, August 21, at 7 p.m. in the Youth Activities Building.

The Christian Women's Fellowship meeting for those of

Canyon's Churchlife

The First Christian Church has been scheduled for Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Calvary Baptist Church will have the Baptist Young Women's meeting Tuesday evening, Aug. 19, at 7:30 p.m.

A routine business meeting with committee reports and deacon recommendations will be held Wednesday evening, Aug.

20, at the First Baptist Church.

The final session of the adult summer series at First United Methodist Church will deal with the "Rights of The Dying" with Rev. John Waggoner conducting the study this morning, August 17. A panel discussion on the subject will follow the study with Virginia Rossiter, Dr. Dudley Moore, Flora Phillips and Mrs. Jim Williams as panel members.
